Presented by: Brock Boyd, Kathleen Kurke and Carolyn Thompson of the Pinnacle Society

The Pinnacle Society is the nation's premier consortium of top recruiters within the direct placement and search industry. For more than 20 years, the Pinnacle Society has provided the nation's top recruiters a forum in which to exchange the business principles and placement techniques that led them to achieve, and allows them to maintain their success.

This is a must-attend event for all recruiters. The panel is comprised of top billers who will share information about how to increase individual billings.

Robin Mee, the panel moderator, will gather questions in advance and pose them to the panel. Additionally, Robin will take audience questions that can be directed to a particular person or to the entire panel. Pinnacle members are from a variety of disciplines who do contingency as well as retained search, so that more people can relate to specific fields.
